Dear Parents and Carers,

As part of our school's personal, social, health education (PSHE) curriculum, we will be teaching a series of Sex and Relationship Education (SRE) lessons this term for Year 2. These lessons will look at the similarities and differences between boys and girls (male and female), life-cycles, families and the ways in which everybody needs to be cared for.

These lessons are age-appropriate and are designed to support the social and emotional development of our pupils. In particular we aim to encourage children to have a positive attitude to their bodies and a respectful attitude to other people. We also want pupils to feel able to ask questions with confidence.

You have the right to withdraw your child from sex and relationship education lessons. If you do not want your child to participate in these lessons, or you would just like the opportunity to discuss the materials and content being used, please book a telephone meeting with myself or Miss Eastlake. We will work with you to try and identify parts of the curriculum that you will be happy for your child to participate in.

Yours sincerely

Laurence Standing
